Principal's Report

NAIDOC Day

Next week our school will be celebrating NAIDOC Week which will occur in the school holidays. This year's theme, Spirit of the Tent Embassy: 40 years on, was selected by the National NAIDOC Committee to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Aboriginal Tent Embassy and acknowledge the key contributors to its long history. The founders of the tent embassy instilled pride, advanced equality and educated the country on the rights of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. To complete our school's celebrations we will be holding a traditional flag raising ceremony, Welcome to Country and a cutting of a celebratory cake provided by the Nari Nari Tribal Council. Students will then participate in designing some Aboriginal artwork followed by a BBQ lunch. Students from Hay War Memorial High School will help to complete the day by running an afternoon tabloid sports' activity with our students. A feature of the day will be a human representation of the Aboriginal flag created by our students. Students are asked to wear the colours red, yellow and black to assist in achieving this. Thanks to Miss Burke for her outstanding organisation towards getting this day planned. I look forward to it.

Walking To and From School

I often am asked the question of when it is safe for children to begin walking to school by themselves. My answer is that there is no set age when a child is ready to walk to school independently but parents should assess the risks associated with the school route and their own child's ability and confidence to decide if their child is ready or not to walk independently. Parents should work with children to build up their independence, while walking to school, through route finding, road safety skills and general awareness. Depending on the age of the child the following safety rules are recommended by the Walk Safely to School Council:

- Hold a grown up's hand when you cross the road.
 - Hold a grown up's hand when you're on the footpath.
 - Use the school crossing; or
 - Use a safe place to cross the road.
- Stop! Look! Listen! Think!* every time you cross the road.

Kitchen – Garden Lessons

Pictured this week are students from ICR who have recently been actively involved in their garden lesson for this term. The Kitchen-Garden program has been continuing strongly this year and provides children the chance to taste and experience a wide range of produce and aims to change the way children approach and think about food. Students are generally bubbling with enthusiasm in their lessons each week which are linked very closely to the school's literacy and numeracy programs. The Kitchen-Garden program is always looking for volunteers to assist in lessons and anyone interested should contact Mr Ayres at school.

Have a good week.
